White-Label and Country Partner Agreement

The 508 Ministry white-label and country partner agreement: five initialed checkpoints covering independent contractor status, professional engagement, AI limits, data isolation and commission terms, with electronic signature.

Last updated November 29, 2026 • Version 2026.11.29-4 • Fingerprint `372f3fe486ae1d2c...`

In plain language

- You are an independent contractor and never handle client money.
- We are not a law firm or CPA firm; licensed professionals are engaged where required.
- You check AI output and report defects promptly.
- Client data stays separate and private. Commissions follow 365-day attribution with chargeback rules.

These are our operating policies. They describe how we work today and are not legal advice to you. Where a law gives you stronger rights than these documents describe, the law applies.

This White-Label and Country Partner Agreement is between us and the person or organization that signs it below ("you" or the "partner"). It sets out how you may refer clients to us or offer our services under your own brand, how you are paid, and the rules that protect clients, you and us.

Please take your time: read it over the weekend if you like, print it, or download the PDF and come back. Submit is enabled only after you initial all five checkpoints and complete the signature section.

Appointment and territory

We appoint you as a non-exclusive partner. You may refer clients from any country we serve, as listed in our International Disclosures, and we may appoint other partners anywhere. You may present our services under your own brand only with the materials and wording we approve.

Checkpoint 1: Independent contractor, non-agency and zero custody of client funds

1. You are an independent contractor. Nothing in this agreement makes you our employee, agent, legal representative, partner in law or joint venturer.
2. You may not sign anything, make any promise, accept any order or incur any obligation in our name.
3. You will never receive, hold, transfer or have access to client money. Clients pay us, or the relevant authority, directly through the payment routes we provide. You will never ask a client to pay you, open an account for anyone, or ask anyone for passwords, one-time codes, card numbers or bank details.
4. You are responsible for your own taxes, business registrations, insurance and expenses in your country.

Checkpoint 2: Jurisdictional legal, CPA and notary engagement, and non-law-firm notice

1. We are an administration and technology platform, not a law firm or CPA firm. You will not describe us, or yourself when acting under this agreement, as giving legal, tax or accounting advice.
2. Depending on the jurisdiction, and whether the law requires it or a client chooses it, independent licensed attorneys, CPAs, notaries, registered agents and local commercial trades may be engaged. They are independent of us and of you.
3. Where local law reserves work to licensed professionals, you will not perform that work unless you hold the required license and are separately engaged in writing to do it.
4. You will refer any client who asks for legal or tax advice to a qualified, licensed professional.

Checkpoint 3: AI limitations and prompt defect-reporting covenant

1. You understand that our AI and automated systems can make mistakes, including errors in text, numbers, translations, images and audio, and that pages, dashboards and technical functions may need adjustment.
2. You will review AI-assisted material before you share it with anyone, and you will not present AI output to clients as verified professional advice.
3. You will tell us promptly, and in any case within two business days of noticing, about any error, broken page, wrong figure or other defect you find in our materials, pages or systems, so our team can investigate and fix it quickly.
4. To the fullest extent the law allows, we are not liable to you for losses caused by relying on unverified AI output.

Checkpoint 4: Data privacy, isolation and anti-commingling obligations

1. You will handle personal information only to perform this agreement, only as we instruct, and in line with our Privacy Policy and the data protection laws that apply where you and the client are located.
2. You will keep our client data separate. You will not copy it into your own systems, combine it with data from any other business or organization, sell it, or use it for any purpose other than servicing the client who was referred.
3. You will use the secure channels we provide, keep your account credentials private, and tell us within 24 hours if you suspect any unauthorized access to client information.
4. When this agreement ends, or when we ask, you will return or delete client information in your possession and confirm that you have done so.

Checkpoint 5: White-label commission, 365-day attribution, chargeback and liability cap

1. Commission rates are the rates in your written partner schedule. We will give you at least 30 days' notice of any change to rates for future orders.
2. Attribution: a client is attributed to you when they first arrive through your unique partner link or code, and the attribution lasts 365 days from that first visit unless the client later arrives through another partner's link after the window ends.
3. Commissions are earned only on settled, qualifying orders. If an order is refunded, reversed, charged back or found to be fraudulent, the related commission is not owed, and if it was already paid we may deduct it from future commissions.
4. Any income figures we publish are illustrative calculations from our published rates, not an income guarantee. Payouts depend on settled qualifying client orders. You will not make income or earnings claims to anyone.
5. Liability cap: except for breaches of the privacy and anti-commingling obligations, fraud, or amounts the law does not allow to be limited, each party's total liability under this agreement is limited to the commissions paid or payable to you in the 12 months before the claim arose. Neither party is liable for indirect or consequential losses.

Marketing rules

- Use only our approved descriptions, prices and materials, and keep them current.
- No income or earnings claims, no guarantees of government approvals or results, and no claims that we are a law firm, CPA firm, bank or government body.
- Follow anti-spam, telemarketing, consumer protection and data protection laws wherever you market. Get consent where the law requires it before contacting anyone.
- Do not use our name or marks in domain names, social media handles or paid search keywords without our written approval.

Confidentiality and brand license

You will keep our non-public information confidential during this agreement and for three years after it ends (and client personal information for as long as you hold it). We grant you a limited, revocable, non-transferable license to use our approved names, logos and materials only to perform this agreement. We own all of our materials and any improvements to them.

Term and termination

This agreement starts when you sign and continues until either party ends it with 30 days' written notice. We may end it immediately if you breach the checkpoints, act unlawfully or put clients at risk. Commissions earned on settled qualifying orders before termination remain payable, subject to the chargeback terms. The checkpoints on privacy, confidentiality and liability survive termination.

General terms

These terms are governed by the laws of the State of Wyoming, without regard to conflict-of-laws principles. As our existing Terms of Service provide, the parties first try for 30 days to resolve a dispute informally after written notice, and then by binding arbitration as set out there. Our existing Terms of Service control the details. Notices to us go to legal@508ministry.com, or by post to our mailing address: Start My Business Incorporated, 30 N Gould St, Ste N, Sheridan, WY 82801, USA. Notices to you go to the email address you give below. This agreement, together with our Terms and Conditions and Privacy Policy, is the entire agreement about its subject. If any part is unenforceable, the rest remains in force. You may not assign this agreement without our written consent.
